

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

In the net communication system, a system server device brings in a user of a pet whose taste and/or character corresponds with taste and/or character of the other user automatically, in such a way that a pet that becomes a double of one's own is made to pasture at a pet ranch formed within the system server device when he / she feels like pasturing. For this reason, it is possible to establish communications to the other user while making a search for the other user without having need of troublesome labor hour.